

BATTLE FRONT OF EUROPE SPREADING TO NEW WORLD

THOMAS FEIGH ON THE STAND TODAY

Ninety Year Irishman Says Patrick Hammel Never Had an Interest in his Land

Interested Spectators are the Chicago Nephews of the Aged Defendant in the Case

When two aged Irishmen face each other in legal battle array, there is bound to be a display of pyrotechnics and the Patrick Hammel vs Thomas Feigh case is no exception.

Sitting erect in his chair and thumping his cane for emphasis, Thomas Feigh is full of vigor and fight, and carries well his ninety years. He was 25 when he left the Emerald Isle and he arrived in this country in 1852.

Hanging on his every word are four nephews from Chicago, some young, some middle-aged. One of them, Ed, is a personal attendant of Mr. Feigh and had made a trip to Europe with him.

Mr. Feigh related incidents of his life, a wide range of almost a century, ranging from his birth to his parents residence in Chicago. He lived for a time in Quebec, then removed to Michigan. In his early life he was a cobbler and a very good one too. In Nebraska he homesteaded land near Plattsmouth and got a patent from General Grant. He was in Chicago in the pioneer days of that city, later going to Two Harbors, then to Duluth.

In 1905 he became interested in Cuyuna range iron lands, Patrick Hammel being the instrumentality which caused him to invest. Mr. Hammel had considerable funds, he said, and offered them for sale.

"Pat Hammel never owned an interest in my lands and never will," said Mr. Feigh, as he gave a vigorous thump with his cane. And Mr. Hammel smiled graciously, probably thinking his opponent might have the grace to wait for the end of the case. Attorney Baldwin of Duluth examined the witness for the defense.

Witnesses late Thursday were Geo. H. Crosby, his secretary, A. J. McLennan, both of Duluth; Ed Feigh, a nephew of Chicago.

Crops up to Old Sol Now Need Warmth

St. Paul, June 15.—The crops in the northwest are now up to Old Sol, and plenty of warm sun is needed to make the crops a success. Corn is somewhat backward but not serious, while wheat and oats are excellent. With a warm sun and warm nights the harvest in the northwest will be in excess of expectations, Crop Expert Sherman, immigration commissioner, says.

FAIR SEEKS WAR EXHIBIT

Secretary Believes Display Would Arouse Public Interest.

Minneapolis, June 15.—Thomas H. Canfield, secretary and general manager of the Minnesota state fair, Sept. 3 to 8, said he is trying to procure an exhibition of arms and ammunition as well as other war accessories for the fair this year. He has asked the war department to furnish the exhibit.

According to Mr. Canfield several Canadian fairs have had an exhibit during the last two years which have aroused unusual interest.

Warships, submarines and submarine chasers, as well as all pieces of artillery, ranging in size from the regulation army rifle to the greatest of the field pieces, would be shown, it is planned.

Passage by July 1 Somewhat Doubtful

(By United Press)
Washington, June 15.—Congressional apathy toward the food bill makes the passage by July 1 doubtful, and Herbert Hoover will work with the sentiment of the people behind him if the bill fails. Senator Martin, democratic leader, today told the president there is strong opposition to the bill.

AMAZED AT APATHY IF GERMANY WINS MUST FIGHT HERE

(By United Press)
New York, June 15.—Isaac F. Marcossan, American publicist and magazine writer, is amazed at the apathy of the Americans on his return from an European trip and finds America indifferent, and says the deadly slogan is "business" as usual. America is making the same mistake that England did at the opening of the war.
Millions of Americans are filled with the delusion that the Atlantic is a bulwark against invaders and seem to forget the exploits of the U-53 off Nan-tucket that annihilated the one time security made possible by ocean barriers and the possible over seas warfare by Germany.
The battle front of Europe is surely changing and spreading from the old world to the new.
If Germany is not beaten her world ambition must be fought out on our shores.

After Torpedo Struck French Liner Santoy in Mediterranean

These are the first photographs to arrive in the United States taken when the French liner Santoy was struck by a torpedo from a German submarine in the Mediterranean April 10. They were taken by an amateur photographer while the ship was going down and just after she had disappeared. The upper picture shows the sinking liner with many of the passengers and crew on board trying to slip down her sides into a life boat. The lower picture shows the life boats and men and women swimming in a rough sea after the vessel had disappeared beneath the waves.

It has been decided all the members of the Hellenic royal family except the new king will leave Greece, accompanied by the most prominent pro-German politicians and military leaders who form part of the entourage of former King Constantine.

Eliptherios Venizelos has declared that at the end of the war he intended to leave to a Greek national convention a revision of the constitution, which will aim at depriving the sovereign of the possibility of again interfering with the wishes of the people as expressed by their representatives in parliament.

ROAD TO TRIESTE HARD TO CONQUER

Expert Tells of Difficulties That Must Be Overcome.

LATIN TROOPS NEAR DUINO

Despite Fierce Fighting, He Doubts
General Cadorna Will Take Trieste, as Austrian Resistance Increases as Battle Fury Grows—Advance on Front of Twenty Miles.

"The Italian offensive on the Julian front has been a notable one. While not as vigorous a movement as that which finally resulted in the fall of Gorizia last year, the Austrian official statements have not hesitated to announce that at some periods the fighting has been the fiercest they have had to do on the Italian front."

"This statement was made by a military expert who is following closely developments on all the European battle fronts.

"It is doubtful that General Cadorna will reach Trieste, one of the great Italian objectives," he continued. "The Hermada ridge presents a most formidable barrier, and the Austrian resistance is certain to increase as the Italians attempt to push farther along the coast. At present the Italians are less than a mile from Duino, their immediate objective, on the gulf of Trieste.

Must Fight Every Inch.
"While the terrain between their advanced lines and Duino is not especially difficult, they will have to battle for every inch of ground. The most difficult fighting of all will come after Duino is passed, when the Italians will have somewhat more than ten miles of difficult terrain between them and their goal.

"The Italian advance has been on a front of about twenty miles, or from a point north of Gorizia to the Adriatic shore. It started eighteen days ago and gradually grew in strength.
The principal attack at the outset was north of Gorizia. The Austrian commander apparently concluded this was to be the principal line of attack.

"While the battle was at its height
in this region a crossing of the Isonzo was effected at a point much nearer the coast, and a new Italian army poured through the Austrian lines.
The latter were taken by surprise.
This, however, is no excuse, since the Austrians have known at all times that Trieste is one of the principal objectives of Italy.

"The gain in territory has not been great, but even that is considerable.
The fact that the Austrian lines have been smashed and the armies of Emperor Charles forced back for miles along the coast has served not only to hearten the Italian forces, but the allies in general.

"The capture of nearly 24,000 Austrian troops in a little more than two weeks is no small accomplishment and must have had a chilling effect on Vienna. Austria's counter claim to having captured 14,000 unwounded
Italians serves to offset the Rome claim, but the followers of King Victor Emmanuel have every reason for rejoicing.

Italian Progress Remarkable.
"The most spectacular captures of the forward movement, of course, were the taking of Monte Cucco and the approaches to Monte Santo, which required a long and terrible fight. It became most intense on the Vodicce and on the hills approaching Monte Santo.

"When the natural difficulties the Italians have to face on this front are taken into consideration their progress appears remarkable. The Isonzo river is broad and swift. In only one place is it fordable. Here the mountains fairly bristle with Austrian guns. Yet the Italians crossed the river, protected their advancing infantry, consolidated their captured territory and intrenched, all under a heavy concentrated fire by the enemy, whose forces conducted a determined counterattack.

"The line north of Gorizia has not advanced far, the principal advance having been toward the south and east along the coast. Heavy British guns and British gunners played an important part in the initial stages of the drive, hammering the Austrian positions to pieces. Veterans of the Dardanelles campaign arrived in the gulf of Trieste in small monitors and rendered valuable assistance to the land forces by pounding the Austrian left bank.

"While the capture of Trieste would have a greater moral effect than military value, since it would mark the realization of an Italian dream of fifty years, from a military standpoint it would be a real accomplishment. Italy wants the entire eastern shore of the Adriatic freed from Austrian control and the Austrians driven over the mountain ridge. With Trieste in Italian hands it is easily conceivable that Austria would be forced to abandon the entire Italian peninsula, marking an even greater victory for General Cadorna."

Great Guns of Old.
We are accustomed to think of large cannon as a very recent invention.
Yet as long ago as 1543 a certain Ralph Hogge of Buckstead, in Sussex, cast large guns, and a pupil of his, Thomas Johnson, in 1595 made for the Earl of Cumberland "forty-two cast pieces of great ordnance of iron." These weighed 6,000 pounds—three tons—apiece and, we are told, showed very fine, smooth workmanship. All the smelting was done with charcoal, of which it took three tons to smelt each ton of iron.
Also all the ore was carried from the mine on pack horses, which took a load of about 300 pounds each. The immense amount of labor and expense
may be imagined.—London Graphic.

Growth of the Earth.
In the early days of its history the earth grew rapidly by the addition of meteoric matter. It is still growing in the same manner, though scarcely to an appreciable extent, for the mass of meteoric matter added yearly is reckoned to be only 20,000 tons. In the course of ages the larger planets have swept up practically all the fragments of the original disruption, and the only available source of supply of meteoric matter seems to be that brought by comets.

REGISTER NOW FOR RED CROSS

Join Now and Assist in the Organization of Brainerd Chapter Next Tuesday

JURISDICTION OVER THE COUNTY
"A Large, Well Organized and Efficient Red Cross Is Essential," Said Pres. Wilson

Register now as a volunteer member of the Red Cross. Every citizen of Brainerd is entitled to become a member of this society authorized by the government to aid the sick and wounded of our army and navy in time of war. Join now and assist in organizing our Brainerd Chapter next Tuesday. This Chapter will have jurisdiction over Crow Wing county. President Wilson says: "A large, well organized and efficient Red Cross is essential. It is both a patriotic and humane service that is rendered by every citizen who becomes a member of the American Red Cross. Membership, however, imposes no obligation of personal service in the field, either in time of war or peace. But every one can serve at home by becoming a member, by getting his friends to join, and by participating in the work of the local chapter.

The membership booths in some cases have been changed from the stores mentioned in Wednesday's paper to nearby tents.

First ward tent at the corner of Sixth and Laurel, today in charge of Mrs. Robt. Tinkelpaugh and Miss Gertrude Smith. Second ward, Mrs. Webber's store, corner Ninth and Main, in charge of Mrs. Webber and Miss Grace Carlson. Third ward tent, corner 2nd avenue and Kindred street, in charge of Miss Gertrude Marco and Miss Elizabeth O'Connor. Fourth ward tent, near Bredenberg's store in charge of Miss Bessie Bredenberg and Miss Hannah Swanson. Fifth ward tent in N. P. park, corner 6th and Front, in charge of Miss Norma Brady and a Northern Pacific trained nurse. Annual membership is one dollar. Fifty cents goes to the National Red Cross and fifty cents remains in Brainerd to buy supplies for work in the local chapter. Boost for your ward by joining at the ward booths. Results from each ward will be printed later.

It is expected that a tent for the second ward will be pitched tomorrow and Monday in Gregory Park. Booths are open from one o'clock till evening.

HELP RED CROSS, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Former President Makes Vigorous Plea for Humanity.

DUTY OF EVERY AMERICAN

In Forceful Appeal for $100,000,000 Fund for Wounded Mr. Roosevelt Characterizes Work as Sacred a Mission as Was Ever Undertaken in Behalf of Suffering World.

Lincoln, Neb., June 15.—Theodore Roosevelt appealed to the nation to give generously and speedily to the $100,000,000 war fund which the war council of the American Red Cross is to raise for immediate Red Cross needs next week. Speaking at the semi-centennial celebration of Nebraska statehood here, the colonel declared that the Red Cross will be second in importance only to the army as a factor in winning the war.

Urging the whole country to support the most splendidly constructive work that ever confronted a nation, Colonel Roosevelt said in part:

"Second only to the army in the work of winning this war comes our Red Cross. Indeed, the importance of this work is so great that the president of the United States has set apart next week, from June 18 to 25, as a period for sacrifice and unselfish generosity, a week in which the whole American people will be asked to join in raising funds to enable our Red Cross to perform its vast and indispensable duties in this war.

"That these duties may not only have the support of our hearts, but that the gifts of our people may be made effective, may be put to the best possible use, the president has also commissioned several of the ablest business men of the country as a war council of the Red Cross to administer this service on behalf of a stricken world. This war council has already made far-reaching plans. They tell us that a fund of $100,000,000 must be raised at once in order to meet even the most urgent needs. That fund we are asked to raise for this work of sacrifice and consecration.

Summons to Every American.

"Here, indeed, is a summons to every American. It is an enormous sum of money. But what comfort can we take in withholding that or any other sum of money if it is needed to relieve the suffering of our own sons or the sons of our allies who are fighting for all that makes life worth living?

"We little realize what is before us. Our own sons and brothers will soon be going into battle. They will be 3,000 miles from home, in a land already wasted by war, a land threatened by famine, a land smitten by disease. They tell us that in many cases today the wounds of soldiers in France must be tied up with newspaper for want of the necessary surgical bandages. When our own men are wounded, as they surely will be in great numbers, are we going to allow them to suffer yet more because we fail to provide those things which can at least mitigate distress? Surely not! But we must do it in advance. If we wait it may be too late. Do it now! Nineteen-tenths of wisdom is being wise in time.

France Needs Us Sorely.

"France, proud, brave, bleeding from ghastly wounds, needs us sorely. Tuberculosis is raging throughout her land. Fifteen hundred of her towns and villages have been razed to the ground by the calculated barbarity of the invaders. Millions of her people are homeless and starving, bereft even of the barest coverings for their bodies, of stoves, of utensils with which to cook or eat, of agricultural implements or animals—indeed, of the simplest elements of civilization. And to us alone can these people come for help. We alone have the abundance with which to supply their direct needs.

"To Russia, too, we must reach out our helping hand. We little know what she has suffered and is suffering. Her soldiers went into battle ill equipped with arms and ammunition. Of medical supplies she had almost none. To care for her wounded on a battle line of 1,000 miles she has but 6,500 ambulances, while France has 64,000 in a battle line of 400 miles, and even that is not enough. Russia, long obedient to autocracy, has not flinched in this conflict. Her people have had to struggle not only to free the world from autocracy, but to make their own land a land of liberty. Russia needs all we can do to strengthen her courage and to make her feel that we are indeed behind her. Our armies can do little for her. Our Red Cross alone can take into Russia the message of hope, of help, of confidence, which she so terribly needs. The message must be practical. It must carry deeds and not merely words, and it should be carried at once.

"So let this summons to our people for a week of sacrifice and generosity be not in vain. Let Red Cross week be a week wherein the whole American people shall pledge to the service of a great cause both themselves and their possessions. Equip the Red Cross for the beginning and for the carrying through of as sacred a mission as was ever undertaken in behalf of a suffering world."

Her Salute to the Flag.
A little child visiting Abraham Lincoln with her father in Mr. Lincoln's private office when he was president of the United States, says the New York Sun, suddenly turned to Mr. Lincoln and said, "Mr. President, what is the best way for a little girl to salute the American flag?"
Mr. Lincoln was puzzled and finally said: "Why, my little dear, I have never given the matter any thought. Have you any suggestion to make?"
"Well," the child said, "why can't we place our right hands over our hearts and just gaze at the flag?"
Mr. Lincoln said, "I think that would be splendid."

The word "democrat" originated from two Greek words. "Demos" means the common people; "krates" means rule. A democrat is one who favors rule by the people.

ADVANCE IN LIGHTING METHODS

A wonderful advance in lighting methods may be forecast in the announcement of an invention by a Pittsburgh engineer and manufacturer named Ethan I. Dadds. He is reported to have solved the mystery of the firefly and worked out a method of making big, practical fireflies of his own.

The "lightning bug" has always been the envy of scientists because it produces light without heat. How it makes the light has never been satisfactorily explained. Mr. Dadds says that it simply absorbs daylight or sunlight and lets it out at night according to its needs.

He spent several hundred thousand dollars analyzing the firefly's light plant, isolating the particular element that catches and holds the light, combining that element with radium and applying it to his own use. The final result is a glass bulb coated inside with a whitish substance, enclosing an inner bulb, with a vacuum between the two, after the manner of a thermos bottle. He holds this double bulb in the sunlight or sticks an incandescent lamp inside it for a few seconds, and then it gives out a steady, cold light which doesn't wholly fade for several hours.

Now that Mr. Dadds has his artificial firefly, he doesn't know what to do with it. He says the government may have it if it wants it. He thinks it would be useful in submarines, where electric power must be carefully conserved. His idea is to rig up incandescent lights inside his bulbs, arranging them so that they would flash for 20 seconds out of each hour. That, he says, would suffice to store the bulbs with power to emit continuously nearly as much light as the incandescent lamp would if turned on the whole time.

This is simply "bottled light." If his light bottles can do what he claims for them, and if they are not too expensive to make, we may eventually be using them to light our houses with.

FREE SPEECH IN OPEN FORUMS

In Boston there is an auditorium called Ford Hall. Daniel S. Ford left a legacy to build it, and in it on Sunday night meetings are held where people of all faiths or none come to hear lectures followed by open discussions. Daniel Ford was a Baptist and the hall is supported by Baptists. Recently a lecture was given by a Catholic priest, and the audience comprised Jews, Catholics, Protestants of a dozen varieties, agnostics, anarchists, socialists and people of about all the brands of belief and unbelief, economic and religious, which there are in the country.

That is real democracy. That sort of thing is always broadening and useful. But the open forum of today is more than that. It is a safety valve. It lets people talk their emotions out without rioting. It gives every man with ideas to express a sense of the country's fair play.

Shutting down meetings simply sends the would-be meeters off seething under the sense of injustice. It makes martyrs of them. They become dangerous. Free speech is not only one of the highest privileges of a democracy, but it is also one of its best safeguards. More open forums should be the aims of most communities, and when the restless ones want to talk, let 'em talk.

The most murderous of all aerial piracy was seen in England when the Germans dropped acid bombs on women and babies and the ghastly toll of these innocents is added to the fiendish purpose displayed by the invaders of that country. New and destructive and pain making devices are being used in these air raids and as a result of the more recent attack from the skies on London tiny children and women writhed in hospital beds suffering untold agonies from great burns caused by these missiles. War is hell, but no country ever before inflicted the indignities upon the innocent people of any country that the Teutons have charged up to their score.

Ninety-nine per cent of all the newspapers in America are regarding the volunteer censorship on affairs that would aid the enemy, while military information that would be of value to the enemy is being divulged by one per cent, and a new appeal has been made to this "one per cent" to suppress publication of matters of that nature. It is suggested that if there are any papers published that will not suppress this kind of information that some means be devised to suppress the newspapers.

Minneapolis will endeavor to tighten the string by passing an ordinance making it an offense to sell intoxicating liquor to a soldier in uniform by providing for a fine of $100 to both seller and buyer.

Minnesota registered over 220,000 eligible for war service under the selective draft. The state figures showed 192,970 white citizens, 327 negroes, 32 Indians, 24,181 aliens and 1,923 alien enemies.

The Sauk Center Herald is 50 years old, and getting better with age.

The Great Southpaw

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, June 15.—Selecting the greatest southpaw of all time in big league endeavor isn't a matter of gathering the dope on Babe Ruth, Ferdie Schupp, Ed Plank, Rube Waddell, Doc White and the others on down the list of off-handers who have made baseball history.

Eddie Plank undoubtedly has built himself a pedestal on which he stands pretty firmly in a class by himself, but Waddell and White also attained heights any youngster would be glad to reach. With Waddell it was more of a joke than anything else, but his record is so fine—his ability too pronounced to be left out of a line of hurriers who have flashed a wonderful lot of stuff.

It's hardly fair to say that Babe Ruth is the game's greatest left-hander now, and it is equally unfair to say that Ferdie Schupp of the Giants is entitled to the palm. Ruth has done remarkably well against National league pitching, but Schupp never has had the chance to show what he could do against the American league kind. So there is no chance for comparison.

Doc White was one of the chief reasons for the White Sox championship in 1906. He and Ed Walsh between them made the Fielder Jones reputation. When the two of them departed from American league ways championships among the White Sox became very, very scarce.

Waddell picked the Athletics up almost by his own bootstraps and he still was going great when he became a member of the Browns. His gradual decline until he found himself a Northern leaguer was just as brilliant. He never did anything that didn't sparkle. His eccentricities and utter disregard of training rules sent him to the minors and finally to his grave.

Undoubtedly honors among southpaws should be equally distributed between Plank and Waddell, both members of the Athletics when in their prime.

WILL AID RUSSIA TO DEFEAT ENEMY

Aims of American Mission Are Explained.

STATEMENT GIVEN TO PRESS

United States Ambassador at Petrograd Outlines Objects of Elihu Root and His Associates—Will Try to Reduce Burdens and Privations Borne by the People.

Petrograd, June 15.—David R. Francis, the American ambassador, issued to the press a long statement explaining the aims of the American mission headed by Elihu Root, which has arrived in Petrograd.

The statement is thus summarized by the official news agency:

"The communiqué stated the functions of the mission are to devise, in accord with the Russian government, effective means to aid Russia in her effort to defeat the universal enemy of democracy.

"Germany and the German standpoint are the greatest foes to the democratic ideas now cherished by America and Russia in common.

"The mission will elucidate to Russia the aims followed by America, making it clear America is inspired by idealistic motives; also she is devoting to the struggle all her material resources, the indications of which are the facts the American fleet is operating jointly with the entente allies' fleet; that 10,000,000 Americans are registered for army service and the economic support which America can lend.

"Realizing Russia must not only fight but live America will try to reduce the burdens and privations borne by the Russian people."

CAMPAIGN PROVES SUCCESS

Indications Are Liberty Loan Has Been Oversubscribed.

Washington, June 15.—The Liberty loan campaign entered the home stretch with every indication the tremendous thirteenth day drive through out the nation will push the total subscriptions well beyond the $2,000,000,000 goal.

From coast to coast the story that poured into the treasury was the same, a story of a whirlwind finish. Telegrams told of tolling bells and shrieking whistles across the continent, marking the last day of the campaign; of redoubled efforts of enthusiasm at its highest pitch, of long waiting lines of subscribers in thousands of banks in every state.

The last twenty-four hours' work will show large in the final count, according to these reports. It seems certain at least 2,500,000 persons have subscribed.

CHASER BUILDING PROGRAM

Construction of Small Boats Is Ahead of Schedule.

Washington, June 15.—The submarine chaser building program is more than a month ahead of schedule. The navy department announced that nearly three times the expected number of 110-foot chasers will be delivered by Aug. 1, according to present indications, and that all of the large number of boats ordered actually are under construction.

The department has not announced the number of boats ordered. It is known, however, that several hundred will be in service by Jan. 1 of next year.

REICHSTAG WILL CONTINUE

Germany Unable to Hold Elections Next January.

Berlin, June 15.—A further continuation of the reichstag legislative is being taken for granted in governmental and parliamentary circles, according to the Tagblatt.

It generally is admitted that new elections cannot take place next January, even if the war is concluded then, as the return of voters from all the fronts by that time is impossible.

Final Army Camps Chosen.

Washington, June 15.—The war department announced approval of the following four national army cantonment sites, completing the sixteen sites to be selected: Rockford, Ill.; Yaphank, South Haven, L. I.; Annapolis Junction, Md.; and Petersburg Va.

GOVERNOR MAY RUN AGAIN

Minnesota Executive Intimates He Will Be Candidate.

St. Paul, June 15.—Governor J. A. Burnquist will be a candidate for reelection to his present office, if in politics at all next year, he said.

Renewed reports that Senator Knute Nelson has determined to retire next year have been received by his friends, giving rise to new speculations about his successor. "Governor Burnquist has been considered a possibility.

"I should prefer," he said, "to be a candidate for re-election as governor, should I determine to remain in public life."

PRESIDENT SCORES GERMAN PEACE PLOT

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson warned the American people in a Flag day address on the Washington monument that Germany has carried into effect the greater part of her immediate plan of conquest and now is negotiating a new "intrigue of peace" designed to end the war while her aggressions are secure.

All the central empires, the president declared, have been cemented into one great autocracy ridden empire, "throwing a broad belt of German military power and political control across the very center of Europe and beyond the Mediterranean into the heart of Asia." This achieved, he said, it is easy to understand why Germany is fostering a propaganda for an early peace.

"Peace, peace, peace has been the talk of her foreign office for a year or more," said the president. "A little of the talk has been public, but most of it has been private. Through all sorts of channels it has come to me and in all sorts of guises.

"The military masters under whom Germany is bleeding see clearly to what point fate has brought them. If they can secure peace now with the immense advantages still in their hands which they have up to this point apparently gained they will have justified themselves before the German people, they will have gained by force what they promised to gain by it."

MAY BUY LIQUOR BUSINESS

British Commission Is Investigating the Proposal.

London, June 15.—Recent reports that the government was considering the desirability of purchasing the liquor trade were confirmed in the house of commons by Chancellor Bonar Law.

He gave assurance that the house will be consulted before the completion of such action.

Commissioners have been appointed by the cabinet to consider the question.

FRANCE MUST FIGHT TO FINISH, VIVIANI SAYS.

Paris, June 15.—"Peace is impossible now. We will go on to the bitter end." Vice Premier Rene Viviani in the chamber of deputies declared. Premier Ribot, relating the abdication of King Constantine of Greece, asserted all the allies were united in the action taken.

BUYS $5,000,000 IN BONDS

President Hill Announces Purchase by Great Northern.

St. Paul, June 15.—The Great Northern railway has subscribed $5,000,000 to the Liberty loan and more than $1,000,000 of it is to apply to St. Paul, making St. Paul's total more than $12,500,000.

Louis W. Hill, president, announced the subscription and said that the first $1,000,000 will be credited to St. Paul, $2,000,000 to New York and the remaining $2,000,000 to be applied along the line of the Great Northern.

Sends Message of Sympathy.

The Hague, June 15.—A Cologne dispatch says the news of King Constantine's abdication created a painful impression at German headquarters. The emperor expressed great chagrin and sent his brother-in-law and Queen Sophia a message of sympathy.

Labor in Switzerland.

About twenty-five years ago employment agencies were first established in the leading industrial centers of Switzerland. Municipal interest was soon shown in these institutions, and by 1900 several of the larger cities, such as Zurich, Geneva and Bern, operated municipal employment bureaus. In March, 1910, these official institutions were united into a national organization, subsidized by the federal government, called the Swiss Bureau of Employment, with head offices at Zurich. The undertaking of supplying the needy unemployed with work has thus practically passed into the hands of the federal government.

Instinct of the Reporter.

Speaking of the ability of reporters, Richard Harding Davis once said: "Reporters become star reporters because they observe things that other people miss and because they do not let it appear that they have observed them. When the great man who is being interviewed blurs out that which is indiscreet, but most important, the cub reporter says: 'That is most interesting, sir. I'll make a note of that.' And he warns the great man into silence. But the star reporter receives the indiscreet utterance as though it bored him, and so the great man does not know he has blundered until he reads of it the next morning under screaming headlines."

What the Types Said.

A mistake which was perhaps the fault of the stenographer rather than the printer related to the proposal of a British toast to the "Three per cent consols" instead of "Three present consols."

SIGNS POINT TO GERMAN RETREAT

Teutons Are Falling Back on Belgian Front.

BRITISH KEEPING IN TOUCH

General Haig's Patrols Are Harassing the Enemy as Much as Possible and Artillery Is Maintaining Steady Bombardment of New Positions.

London, June 15.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from headquarters in France says:

"The enemy's withdrawal in the vicinity of Messines ridge is extending somewhat farther southward. The German heavy shells are generally reported as falling at the extreme range, which means the enemy has withdrawn his big guns as far as possible, short of actually putting them out of action.

"The British contact patrols are harassing the enemy as much as possible and the artillery is maintaining a steady bombardment of his new positions. The country across which the Germans are retreating is low and marshy and in wet weather liable to be flooded."

The military correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, discussing the present strategic position, says:

"There is a great military road into Belgium from the west through Ypres. There is another great road from the West through Armentieres, along the valley of the Lys. These roads converge and meet in what is an important railroad as well as a road center. The Wytschaete ridge lies in the angle between these roads and its possession commands both.

"These geographical facts make it clear why Germany has fought so long to gain possession of the ridge and was willing to pay for it at a price equal to that which they were willing to pay for Verdun if their entire losses in the battle around Ypres are included."

18,004 BELOW ESTIMATE

Minnesota Returns Show 221,747 Men Registered.

St. Paul, June 15.—The official Minnesota returns, showing 221,747 selective draft registrations; have been sent by Governor Burnquist to Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder at Washington.

The grand total is based on tabulations by Adjutant General Fred B. Wood, state registration chief, of the complete summaries from eighty-eight counties and special city boards in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. The Koochiching county report completed the returns.

Minnesota's registration is now 18,804 below the government estimate of 250,551, but is subject to corrections on rechecks of the summaries and to supplementary returns on late registrations.

Exemption claims are indicated on the cards of 105,736 out of 194,163 white citizens and of 589 out of 952 negroes registered.

Aliens numbering 24,599 and 1,971 alien enemies make up the balance of state registration total.

CAPTURE FORT ON RED SEA

British Warships Take Possession After Brief Battle.

London, June 15.—Fort Salif, on the east shore of the Red Sea, has been captured by British warships. It was officially announced. The statement says:

"The commander-in-chief in the East Indies reports that Tuesday morning his majesty's ships under his command captured the fort at Salif after a resistance of three hours.

"Ninety-four prisoners, three machine guns and two mountain guns and military stores, camels and the harbor plant were captured. One Britisher was killed."

SWEDEN REMAINS NEUTRAL

Foreign Minister Says Greater Suffering Is Coming.

Stockholm, June 15.—Foreign Minister Lindman made a statement to parliament in which he declared that the Swedish government intends to continue to observe unqualified loyal neutrality.

"The war will not end soon," the foreign minister said, "and we must be prepared for greater sufferings than we have previously borne, all the more as the Swedish harvest this year unquestionably will be a poor one."

ONLY SIX STATES MISSING

Returns to Washington Show 8,839,582 Men Registered.

Washington, June 15.—With returns from all except six states the war registration total stood at 8,839,582, or 93.5 per cent of the census estimate of 9,552,641 eligibles in the forty-two states reported and the District of Columbia.

If the average is maintained the registration complete will show 9,583,000 men enrolled.

This was the formula of a coffee mixture that sold freely in the days of gross adulteration during and immediately subsequent to the war between the states before matters began to right themselves.

Best Java coffee, one pound; rye, three pounds. Carefully clean the rye from all bad grains, wash to remove dust, drain off the water and pit the grain into the roaster, carefully stirring to brown it evenly. Roast the coffee separately. Grind the mixture and pack in air tight containers.

FLAG DAY AS THE ELKS

Impressive Services are Largely Attended on Thursday Evening at the Elks Hall

PROGRAM REVIEWED IN DETAIL

Celebrated Birth of Old Glory, the Hundred and Fortieth Anniversary of its Coming

One of the most patriotic and impressive services held in the city for some time, was the services rendered under the auspices of the local Elks last evening at the Elks hall, at which there was quite a gathering of local Elks and their families and also the general public. As the Elks are truly an American order, it is their custom to annually celebrate Flag Day which is June 14th, as that is the anniversary of the birth of the American flag, Old Glory, and yesterday being the hundred and fortieth anniversary of its birth.

After the special ritualistic work of the order, by the officers, "The History of the Flag" was read by J. J. Nolan. This patriotic reading was followed by the song, "The Star Spangled Banner," very ably rendered by the Elks Trio, which consisted of Brothers Alderman, Mrs. and Jenkins, ably accompanied by Morris D. Folsom. The musical number was followed by "The Elks Tribute to the Flag," which was given in a most impressive manner by Dr. I. C. Edwards of the local order of Elks. The talk of Mr. Edwards was followed by a very interesting drill of eight boys. These youths marched to the commands which were sung by an equal number of maidens seated in the audience. Miss Irwin and others are to be congratulated for their work and the time spent in featuring this part of the program. After the flag drill by the boys one of the coming young ladies of tomorrow, Miss Emmagene Clarkson, gave a very patriotic recitation entitled, "The Ship's Colors."

At this time it was announced by Exalted Ruler Gould that on account of an unavoidable eleventh hour delay, the mayor, Dr. R. A. Beise, was unable to be present, therefore the doctor was unable to give to the audience the able address which he had prepared. The next number on the program was a very interesting and educational drill of the coming soldiers and protectors of our homes, a local squad of Boy Scouts under the command of Captain Moerke.

After the Boy Scouts had given their interesting drill little Miss Mardelle Winters gave a very stirring recitation entitled, "The Kid Has Gone to the Colors." Mrs. Henry Thiel of Brainerd, who is national officer of the Women's Relief Corps gave a very patriotic talk in which she made some loyal remarks concerning the Grand Army of the Republic, the soldiers of today's army, and also the loyalty of the Elks of America.

The services were closed by the patriotic song "America," sung by the audience and led by the Elks Trio.

The audience left very much impressed by the splendid services of the evening, and were pleased that the Elks of Brainerd had seen fit to join the president of the United States, and the people of the grandest nation on earth, in celebrating the anniversary of the birth of the stars and stripes.

WILL SAW DEADHEADS

Mahlum Lumber Co. Buys Deadheads in Leech Lake From Leech Lake Lumber Company

(Walker Pilot)

The Mahlum Lumber company of Brainerd has purchased the deadheads in Leech Lake from the Leech Lake Lumber Co., and they have let a contract to a party from Rae, Minn., who will install a portable saw mill for the purpose of cutting the timber. The mill is now being loaded at that point and will be shipped to Walker and set up on land east of the local plant. It is expected that about fifteen men will be employed from the start, and if the venture proves a success, will probably be enlarged.

The concern will also purchase logs from neighboring points in small quantities. Charles Kinkadee has been busy the past month picking up the deadheads and already has enough on hand to commence active operations. Leech lake is a veritable gold mine, teeming with half sunken logs, and the removal of them will mean a good thing to the parties interested and the local boatmen who have to keep a continual watch for them, making night running on the lake dangerous.

White frost early this morning, thermometer registering 21, lowest minimum in eighteen days, damaged corn slightly in the lowlands of Crow Wing county.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

The St. Paul Daily News has cut out mail stories for its Northwest News section. On June 15 the old heading "Northwest News" two columns wide appeared and under it was this array of dops, "Olive and Egg Sandwich," "Crumb Pudding" and "Combining Greens." A marked copy of the paper was sent L. V. Ashbaugh by a Brainerd friend.

It was down in Pete Cardie's neighborhood and the kids had been playing war. One was taken as a spy and eluded his captors and raised an army equipped with air guns and attacked the enemy. The latter got out their heavy artillery and fired rocks. Several windows cracked and barns were struck and then the mothers of the combatants formed a peace court which hauled their respective hopefuls out of the trenches and stopped the row. "I tell you," said Pete, "those god-darned air gun bullets were rattling like a machine gun on the side of the house and somebody might have lost an eye."

PRAISES COUNTRY PRESS

Says They Can Help Win the War, Giving the Publicity That Reaches the People

A. C. Weiss, of the Duluth Herald, member of the public safety commission, told the commission's county directors at the meeting in St. Paul that publicity is the greatest agent in creating public sentiment, and that the country press and county meetings promised to form sentiment that would go far toward insuring the success of the war.

Mr. Weiss knows whereof he speaks, as his Herald carries the largest amount of country correspondence of any paper in the northwest Saturdays and many other days of the week.

There is no doubt about the country editor getting close to his people. They see him through the front window and they walk in the front door and let him know what's what very quickly. He gets more criticism and ideas first hand than any city editor boxed up in an office on a third floor, far away from life itself.

SUNDAY DINNER

To be Served June 17 by the Ladies Aid of Vaale Church of South Long Lake

The ladies of the Vaale church of South Long Lake will serve a Sunday dinner at the home of Ole Sundin in Oak Grove one block east of the church. A short program will be given at the church and dinner will be served commencing 12 o'clock.

Animal Strength.

Tests made to determine the respective pulling power of horses, men and elephants showed that two horses, weighing 1,600 pounds each, together pulled 3,750 pounds, or 550 pounds more than their combined weight. One elephant, weighing 12,000 pounds, pulled 8,750 pounds, or 3,250 pounds less than its weight. Fifty men, aggregating 7,500 pounds in weight, pulled 8,750 pounds, or just as much as the single elephant; but, like the horses, they pulled more than their own weight; 100 men pulled 12,000 pounds.

Boy, My Trusty Helmet; Ball Bombs to Drop

(Minneapolis Journal)

Local villagers are warned not to stroll carelessly about the downtown district Saturday night without their steel helmets. The bomb season is upon us and the air raids on London will have nothing on the deluge that will descend on Minneapolis Saturday night. But in this case the deadly missiles will be baseballs and instead of being hurled from a warplane they will be dropped from the roof of the First National See Line building.

The small speck dimly discerned below on the concrete court at the back of the building be Morton Towle, catcher for the Washburn baseball team, of the Commercial league. Towle will endeavor to catch one of the 10 balls that will be dropped. Permission is said to have been secured from the police department and the milling company backstop is busier than a Latinia bookmaker taking down bets on the outcome of the trials.

Towle has been out in several hall-storms lately and is reported to have caught a bushel basket full of icy pellets. Judging a hurdling hall-stone is great practice when it comes to getting the old catching eye sharpened, says Towle. If the members of the team who drop the balls show any degree of accuracy Saturday, they will probably be conscripted to serve in France with the American flying squadron.

It may be noted that the young man mentioned is a brother of Mrs. Frank G. Hall.

The Advertising Value of Sports

BY "TRAPSHOOTER"

(For National Sports Syndicate)

A prominent advertising expert, who has given considerable attention to the advertising and boosting of cities, claims that sports—particularly baseball and trapshooting—have great advertising value. In a recent interview, he said:

"Not every town can have a big league baseball team to carry its name abroad with the consequent advertising value of continually having the place mentioned in the sporting columns of the newspapers of the country.

"One of the principal reasons for this lack of opportunity to become widely advertised is the dearth of baseball talent, with baseball scouts everywhere doing the Sherlock Holmes act to recruit the ranks of the big and near-big leagues, the majority of towns must content themselves with the hope that one of their young townsmen may become a 'home-run' somebody of a 'big-six' somebody.

"But there is a possible way for every town with any good, red sporting blood to become known to the country in general and the world of sports in particular. This way is to develop a real live trapshooting club. Not only will the events at the club be given space in the columns of newspapers and sporting publications but there is always the possibility of one or more shooters attaining a degree of proficiency in pulverizing the clay saucers that will place him in the champion class, while the club itself might earn the reputation of being a topnotcher among more than 4,000 trapshooting organizations that dot the sporting map of the country.

"Once a club acquires the reputation of having champions or possible champions in its ranks, there come shooters from distant points seeking new fields to conquer and many

July 1st $1595

The price of the Chandler Six, pioneer of all light sixes and now the leader more distinctively than ever before, advances $200 at the close of business June 30th. On and after July 1st, the price will be $1595.

Car Continues
Identically the Same

Will Still Offer
Much Excess Value

There will be no change of any nature in the new Chandler at the new price. The present series, greatest in Chandler history will be continued without alteration.

The Chandler Company has striven to avoid this advance in price. But the advance is unavoidable. It would have been justified months ago. Almost every item in cost of production has advanced materially.

The $1395 price could have been continued only by cheapening the car. And the Chandler car has never been cheapened.

At the new price the Chandler will still offer excess value. Distinctive Chandler features—Bosch High Tension Magneto Ignition; solid cast aluminum crank case extending from frame to frame; annular ball bearings in transmission, differential and rear wheels; silent chain drive for motor shafts, and many other features characteristic of the finest high-priced cars—are not found in other cars selling so low as the advanced Chandler price.

At the present $1395 price, there is no other six comparable to the Chandler in design, equipment and performance.

HOW SHALL WE PAY FOR THE WAR?

A Constructive Criticism on the House Revenue Bill.

LOANS BETTER THAN TAXES

Five Reasons Why Excessive Taxes at the Outset of War Are Disadvantageous—Great Britain Example Worthy of Emulation—How the Taxes Should Be Apportioned.

By EDWIN R. A. SELIGMAN, McVickar Professor of Political Economy, Columbia University.

On May 23, 1917, the House of Representatives passed an act "to provide revenue to defray war expenses and for other purposes." In the original bill as presented by the Committee of Ways and Means, the additional revenue to be derived was estimated at $1,810,420,000. The amendment to the income tax, which was tacked on to the bill during the discussion in the House, was expected to yield another $40,000,000 or $40,000,000.

In discussing the House bill, two problems arise:

I. How much should be raised by taxation?

II. In what manner should this sum be raised?

I. How Much Should Be Raised by Taxation?

How was the figure of $1,800,000,000 arrived at? The answer is simple. When the Secretary of the Treasury came to estimate the additional war expenses for the year 1917-18, he calculated that they would amount to some $6,000,000,000, of which $3,000,000,000 was to be allotted to the allies, and $3,000,000,000 was to be utilized for the domestic purposes. Thinking that it would be a fair proposition to divide this latter sum between loans and taxes, he concluded that the amount to be raised by taxes was $1,800,000,000.

There are two extreme theories, each of which may be dismissed with scant courtesy. The one is that all war expenditures should be defrayed by loans, and the other is that all war expenditures should be defrayed by taxes. Each theory is untenable.

It is indeed true that the burdens of the war should be borne by the present rather than the future generation; but this does not mean that they should be borne by this year's taxation.

Meeting all war expenses by taxation makes the taxpayers in one or two years bear the burden of benefits that ought to be distributed at least over a decade within the same generation.

In the second place, when expenditures approach the gigantic sums of present-day warfare, the tax-only policy would require more than the total surplus of social income. Were this absolutely necessary, the ensuing havoc in the economic life of the community would have to be endured. But where the disasters are so great and at the same time so unnecessary, the tax-only policy may be declared impracticable.

Secretary McAdoo had the right instinct and highly commendable courage in deciding that a substantial portion, at least, of the revenues should be derived from taxation. But when he hit upon the plan of 50-50 per cent, that is, of raising one-half of all domestic war expenditures by taxes, the question arises whether he did not go too far.

The relative proportion of loans to taxes is after all a purely business proposition. Not to rely to a large extent on loans at the outset of a war is a mistake.

Disadvantages of Excessive Taxes.

The disadvantages of excessive taxes at the outset of the war are as follows:

1. Excessive taxes on consumption will cause popular resentment.

2. Excessive taxes on industry will disarrange business, damp enthusiasm and restrict the spirit of enterprise at the very time when the opposite is needed.

3. Excessive taxes on incomes will deplete the surplus available for investments and interfere with the placing of the enormous loans which will be necessary in any event.

4. Excessive taxes on wealth will cause a serious diminution of the incomes which are at present largely drawn upon for the support of educational and philanthropic enterprises. Moreover, these sources of support would be dried up precisely at the time when the need would be greatest.

5. Excessive taxation at the outset of the war will reduce the elasticity available for the increasing demands that are soon to come.

Great Britain's Policy.

Take Great Britain as an example. During the first year of the war she increased taxes only slightly, in order to keep industries going at top notch. During the second year she raised by new taxes only 9 per cent. of her war expenditures. During the third year she levied by additional taxes (over and above the pre-war level) only slightly more than 17 per cent. of her war expenses.

If we should attempt to do as much in the first year of the war as Great Britain did in the third year it would suffice to raise by taxation $1,250,000,000. If, in order to be absolutely on the safe side, it seemed advisable to increase the sum to $1,500,000,000, this should, in our opinion, be the maximum.

In considering the apportionment of the extraordinary burden of taxes in war times certain scientific principles are definitely established:

How Taxes Should Be Apportioned.

(1) The burden of taxes must be spread as far as possible over the whole community so as to cause each individual to share in the sacrifices according to his ability to pay and according to his share in the Government.

(2) Taxes on consumption, which are necessarily borne by the community at large, should be imposed as far as possible on articles of quasi-luxury rather than on those of necessity.

(3) Excises should be imposed as far as possible upon commodities in the hands of the final consumer rather than upon the articles which serve primarily as raw material for further production.

(4) Taxes upon business should be imposed as far as possible upon net earnings rather than upon gross receipts or capital invested.

(5) Taxes upon income which will necessarily be severe should be both differentiated and graduated. That is, there should be a distinction between earned and unearned incomes and there should be a higher rate upon the larger incomes. It is essential, however, not to make the income rate so excessive as to lead to evasion, administrative difficulties, or to the more fundamental objections which have been urged above.

(6) The excess profits which are due to the war constitute the most obvious and reasonable source of revenue during war times. But the principle upon which these war-profit taxes are laid must be equitable in theory and easily calculable in practice.

The Proposed Income Tax.

The additional income tax as passed by the House runs up to a rate of 60 per cent. This is a sum unheard of in the history of civilized society. It must be remembered that it was only after the first year of the war that Great Britain increased her income tax to the maximum of 34 per cent., and that even now in the fourth year of the war the income tax does not exceed 42½ per cent.

It could easily be shown that a tax with rates on moderate incomes substantially less than in Great Britain, and on the larger incomes about as high, would yield only slightly less than the $532,000,000 originally estimated in the House bill.

It is to be hoped that the Senate will reduce the total rate on the highest incomes to 34 per cent., or at most to 40 per cent., and that at the same time it will reduce the rate on the smaller incomes derived from personal or professional earnings.

If the war continues we shall have to depend more and more upon the income tax. By imposing excessive rates now we are not only endangering the future, but are inviting all manner of difficulties which even Great Britain has been able to escape.

Conclusion.

The House bill contains other fundamental defects which may be summed up as follows:

(1) It pursues an erroneous principle in imposing retroactive taxes.

(2) It selects an unjust and unwarrantable criterion for the excess-profits tax.

(3) It proceeds to an unheard-of height in the income tax.

(4) It imposes unwarranted burdens upon the consumption of the community.

(5) It is calculated to throw business into confusion by levying taxes on gross receipts instead of upon commodities.

(6) It fails to make a proper use of stamp taxes.

(7) It follows an unscientific system in its flat rate on imports.

(8) It includes a multiplicity of petty and unworkable taxes, the vexatiousness of which is out of all proportion to the revenue they produce.

The fundamental lines on which the House bill should be modified are summed up herewith:

(1) The amount of new taxation should be limited to $1,250,000,000—or at the outset to $1,500,000,000. To do more than this would be as unwise as it is unnecessary. To do even this would be to do more than has ever been done by any civilized Government in time of stress.

(2) The excess-profits tax based upon a sound system ought to yield about $500,000,000.

(3) The income-tax schedule ought to be revised with a lowering of the rates on earned incomes below $10,000, and with an analogous lowering of the rates on the higher incomes, so as not to exceed 34 per cent. A careful calculation shows that an income tax of this kind would yield some $450,000,000 additional.

(4) The tax on whisky and tobacco ought to remain approximately as it is, with a yield of about $230,000,000.

These three taxes, together with the stamp tax at even the low rate of the House bill, and with an improved automobile tax, will yield over $1,250,000,000, which is the amount of money thought desirable.

The above program would be in harmony with an approved scientific system. It will do away with almost all of the complaints that are being urged against the present. It will refrain from taxing the consumption of the poor.

It will throw a far heavier burden upon the rich, but will not go to the extremes of confiscation. It will obviate interference with business and will keep unimpaired the social productivity of the community.

It will establish a just balance between loans and taxes and will not succumb to the danger of approaching either the tax-only policy or the loan-only policy. Above all, it will keep an undisturbed elastic margin, which must be more and more heavily drawn upon as the war proceeds.

THINGS MAY BREAK ON SHORT NOTICE

Therefore President Never Gives Out Speeches In Advance.

IN STATE OF EXPECTATION

Our Navy Is In War Zone, and Our Troops Are In France—As a Result the Next Hour May Bring the Most Important News—Those Affected by Revenue Bill Urged to Visit Capital.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 15.—[Special.]—In times like these almost anything might happen. No one realizes this more than President Wilson. On that account the president does not undertake to furnish copies of speeches he is to make more than a few hours in advance of delivery. He waits until he is quite sure that nothing will happen to cause him to change his remarks before giving them out.

It is altogether likely that the president is in a constant state of expectation. Now that our navy is in European waters and American soldiers are on French soil it is natural to expect that something might happen which would change the entire trend of a speech from the chief executive. While he may prepare his speeches, he will not let them be given out in advance of delivery.

"Come to Washington."

A member of the senate finance committee was quoted not long ago as having said that many lobbyists were in Washington, particularly on the revenue bill. And yet that same senator has seen hundreds of men from his own section of the country and patiently listened to them explain how the proposed revenue bill would affect their businesses. He may not have relished it, but he did it as a matter of duty to them and the country.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania did not consider the people interested in the revenue bill as lobbyists. When he received a letter protesting about certain provisions in the bill he would send word to "come to Washington" and to "send your big men, the men at the head of the concern." In that way he received first hand information as to the effect of the bill upon various industries.

Avoid Politics.

Colonel Alvah H. Martin, member of the Republican national committee from Virginia and an influential man in business affairs of the south, says: "This is no time for politics. This is a time to drop politics and unite in fighting for the country. One reason for the wonderful efficiency in Germany is because all politics has been thrown in the discard and the nation stands solidly behind the government. It behooves us to dismiss politics and get behind our government, and I believe all true Americans will do so."

The Farmers Know.

Disturbing the bill providing for a number of experts to go among the farmers of the country and tell them what they ought to do in the present crisis, Hyman of Tennessee said:

"I do not believe at this time, when foodstuffs are selling at higher prices than ever before, that farmers need experts to go out among them and tell them they ought to produce more foodstuffs."

Then Congressman Hamilton of Michigan gave the real facts about crop shortage by saying, "In my section the scarcity of farm help is the main trouble about increasing crop production."

Tired of Standing.

Those in charge of entertainment and care of many people, particularly old people, such as attended the Confederate reunion in Washington, should make provision for them to sit down. The men and women become so weary of walking around, of standing and having no place for a little rest that their stay in Washington was made painful. In the public buildings, the capitol and other places where there were things to see they had to stand or walk, and for old people this was very trying. Hundreds were observed at times sitting on the stone steps of the capitol and other public buildings. That was not comfortable. Most of those people wanted rest more than anything else.

Established a Precedent.

There is nothing that has quite the saving grace of a precedent. Once let a precedent be established in congress and it remains for all time, unless there is a revolution to upset it. By having the house adjourn in order to prevent anything save war legislation being passed at this session Leader Kitchen established a precedent—a useful one—as it will enable him and his followers to defeat legislation which they do not want considered at this session.

Woman Suffrage Vote.

An effort will be made to get a vote on the woman suffrage amendment, but those who try to bring it forward will say that it is a war measure; that votes for women will help carry on the war; that as long as the women are taxed, are urged to buy liberty bonds and to help in other ways they should be allowed to vote.

Of course that is rather far-fetched, for it is almost certain that the war will be over before a woman suffrage amendment to the constitution can be ratified.

STUDENTS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

University of Minnesota Graduates Number 832.

Minneapolis, June 15.—The University of Minnesota awarded diplomas to 832 students at its forty-fifth annual commencement.

Fifty-one students, members of the Fort Snelling training camp, received their sheepskins at the fort.

The degrees were conferred in the university armory by Dr. George E. Vincent, retiring president. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Theodore G. Soares, head of the department of theology at Chicago university, who in speaking on "The Efficiency of Democracy," declared that "humanity cannot be organized with a sword." He predicted the failure of Germany's dream of conquest.

Entente Troops Land in Greece.

Athens, June 15.—Entente forces are landing at the Piraeus and Castella. Some of the troops are occupying the heights near Phalerum bay, while others are marching to Athens.

FOOD TAX TO FORCE DISTILLERS TO QUIT

Washington, June 15.—A prohibitory tax on foodstuffs used in making beverages, tentatively agreed to last week by the senate finance committee, was still further increased and then was formally written into the war tax bill.

The new rate is $60 a hundred pounds instead of $20 a bushel and representatives of the distillers declare it unquestionably will be effective in forcing suspension of the distilling industry.

Other liquor tax increases were approved by the committee virtually without change from the house schedules. The manufacturers' tax of 5 per cent on alcoholic goods, cameras, patent medicines, perfumes and cosmetics was reduced to 2 per cent and a substitute tax on scalpers' sales of tickets was adopted, making the rate from 5 to 50 per cent instead of 50 per cent flat.
